WHITE'S LODGE
and Cabins

White's Lodge is situated on Lake Mamie just off the Los Angeles-Reno highway, in the High Sierras about fifty miles north of Bishop, Calif. It lies in the heart of a group of more than a score of lakes, ten of which are within two miles of the lodge. Across the lake in one direction towers the great Mammoth Rim. On its right rises the majestic Mammoth Mountain. Red Mountain, the third of this immediate group, stands still further to the right. To the peak of each is a hike or a ride of about two miles. Between Mammoth Mountain and Red Mountain stretches a high valley jeweled with half a dozen lakes connected with tumbling streams fed by the melting snows from the lofty Sierras.

FISHING

The lakes and streams are well stocked with trout, namely: rainbow, lockleven and eastern brook. Some of the lakes are stocked with the popular golden trout. The cold, icy waters make them firm, and what a scrap they give you. You will enjoy the nearby stream fishing, too.

The lakes lie at varying levels from eight to eleven thousand feet. The region presents a recreational opportunity with a scenic beauty equaled in but few places the world over. There are miles and miles of hiking and riding trails. Our lodge and cabins are grouped in a roomy plateau on the shore of Lake Mamie in the heart of this wild scene of Lakes and Mountain streams.
